audience with President Millerand to submit eleventh-hour verbai proposals, had them put in writing and submitted them to France through Swiss financial experts.

It is unlikely that he would have acted without obtaining permission from his government, but whether Swiss bankers will continue to act as intermediaries with France can only be surmised.

It is realized that the passive resistance in the occupied territory is doing Germany infinitely more harm than France. To maintain it has already strained resources and the State is near the breaking point. There is doubt in some German minds whether it can continue much longer with the same success.

Indeed, Berlin has indicated to government officials in the Rhine-land that without incurring its displeasure they may oc-operate to some extent with the invaders. The other president of the Westphallan district, which includes the displeasure they may negotiate with the possibility of continuing their offices without undue interference.

At Dueseldorf the Germans have resumed the administration of the complete of their prisons, which today are largely occupied by prisoners sentenced by French court-martials. A month aso the prisons' personnel refused to continue their work when their countrymen were incarerated by french court-martials.

If no one else will take the lead in calling the meeting, Cal will, for he thinks it highly important to undo some of the things that were done at the meeting in Portland last January.

For one thing, Cal has always favored the draft and he will try to get the directors to rescind the action they took in Portland when they decided they would not take players from the majors who were subject to draft. If Cal succeeds in this, Coast League clubs needing help will be able to get players from the majors this season.

Hurry-Up Yost Arrives Today for Brief Stay

Fielding H. Yost, the famous football coach of University of Michigan teams for the past twenty-three years, will arrive today and while here will give a lecture on football to high school athletes and coaches, in which much interest is being shown. Through the courtesy of Sid Grauman, the Hollywood Egyptian Theater has been placed at the disposal of the local Michigan Alumni Association, who will distribute complimentary tickets to all the schools and colleges in this neighborhood. Yout will exhibit motion pictures of the big Michigan games played last fall, and also "slow movies" of various plays, which show in detail the technique of each play.

Coach Yost is probably the best-known football instructor in the country, and he has been remarkably successful, both in developing winning teams, and in bringing out all-Amer'can players, of whom Heston, Craig, Schults and Kipke of last year's team, are probably the best known. Yost's nickname, Hurry-Up, is characteristic of his style of jay, where speed and alertness, and promptness in exceuting plays are the prime essentials.

AND LEADS HANNAH

In the thirteenth game between the teams of Chadbourne and Hannah, the former carried off the honors yesterday afternoon at Maier Park, 6 to 0. This makes the series stand seven for Chadbourne and six for Hamah. Jacoba, a right-hander from Balt Lake City, heaved the first five innings for Chadbourne and had a clean bill of sale, not a hit being made off his delivery. Miller a local laid heaved the other four innings. Only one hit was registered off him. Chadbourne's lads piled up fittees hits off Shellenback and Minnery. The Chaditee ran hog wild with the bat, every man setting a piece of the horsehide. Both teams were on their toes throughout the entire game, which was chock full of pep and act'm. The Bengsia at present haven't a man on the sich list. If the season opened tomorrow Bill Essick's boys would be in good' fettle to brave the terrors of umpires.

ruines to his team is the one with a free swing who strikes that happy medium between sheer strength and superlative skill.

Van Buren, a free swinging batter himself, is making this style the basis of his system in coaching the sticksmiths of the Vernon Tigers.

"Do you recall the powerful yet easy and even swing of Sam Crawford." saked Van Buren. "It seemed no effort at all for Sam to drive the ball to the fence, and yet he seldom lost his poise, even when he missed. To me he was the ideal batsman. I don't think there ever was a better. His stance and his free swing explain this.

"In order to swing freely a man must stand in such a way as to have perfect balance, and judge the ball accurately. If he steps into the ball too soon he loses it, and also if he steps into the ball too soon he loses it, and also if he steps into the ball too soon he loses it, and also if he steps into the ball too soon he loses it, and also if he steps into it to late. And when he draws beck to meet the ball, his arms should be away from him, not against his chest, or disphragm."

So one of the Deacon's duties is to make the rookies pick their elbows out of their Japanese tea gardens to the damp cellars of Chinese sampana. In addition to giving the cash customers more thrills than they could drag out of a twenty-five inning game, the film should have a wholesome effect on baseball, and shows Kelley to have been every bit as great a guy as Frank Merriwell.

While not doubting that Jack Dempsey believes Jack Kearns has received an offer of $750,000 to box Luis Firpo in Buenes Aires, there are arising serious doubts as to whether such an offer has been received.

These are based on a num-

whether such an offer has been received.

These are based on a number of things, chief of which is that there seems to have been no occasion for such an offer. The belief is quite general that Dempsey would box Firpe for $350,000, particularly if he is as pressed financially as claimed because of heavy real estate investments. Promoters could not hope to heeak even after adding the expense of a stadium and Firpe's share to a guarantee of $750,000 to the champion. The whole thing strikes one, as it has from the beginning, as absolutely prohibitive.

Fossibly there is some sort of an offer in waiting. One wonders if the fine and able hand of Tex Rickard is back of the affair, and if the rumo, of a big pures simply was a projude to a percentage proposition which will be made later. Tex, now leading promoter in New York, formerly had catifle interests in the Argentine.

NEW YORK, March 20.—A casual conversation between passengers in a western Pullman cara year ago, which was overheard by a Federal revenue agent, led to an investigation which resulted today in the filing in the Federal District Court of an equity income and excess profit tax suit for $1.799.842.44, with interest, from 450 individuals and corporations in the United States and Canada.

The defendants were stockholders in the Warren Realty and Development Company of Arisona, which Asst. Dist.-Atty. House said today, was sold in April, 1917, for $2.202,000. The government and Texas.

Great Britain has become so accustomed to seeing her art treasures go from London auction rooms to American galleries that the suggestion made at the time "Mona Lisa" disappeared from the Louvre that the thieves hoped to dispose of their plunder in America, was immediately revived. Although Scotland Yard discounts that possibility, it is declared officials are tightening the customs lines at British ports and are notifying the American police and art galleries to be on the lookout for the paintings.

Cabinet Chiefs to Visit Alaska After Harding [EXCLUSIVE DISPATCE]

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Indicative of the determination of the administration to settle all Alaskan problems on a permanent basis if possible, it is learned here today that as soon as President Harding has completed his Alaskan tour he will be followed into the wilds of that territory by Secretary Work the administration of the trusts are and secretary Work to the administration of the trusts in excess of that value, it is my purpose to consolidate what remains of the alien property as far as it may appear to be expedient to do so, into liquid, assets to be held in the treasury of the United States. This will probably involve in the near future sales and liquidations of the properties of the Department of Agriculture and Secretary Work to the administration of most of the laws pertaining to Alaska.

This is the first time since the beginning of the Alaskan issue in American politics that the Cabines have joined hands in a real attempt to compose the difference in policy between them. Secretaries Wallace and Work are intensify and ther co-operaton contrasts with the recent differences between former Secretary Fall and Secretary Wallace. A comprehensitive Alaska policy is expected to be submitted to the next Congress.

Richmond & Co. Tailors Announce a Change of Management and a Great

The recent appointment of D. Eisner, known as the "reliable tailor," to full control and management of this old-established business will be welcome news to hundreds upon hundreds of Los Angeles men who formerly left their clothes problems to the care of this acknowledged expert. In stepping into active participation in the business D. Eisner adds strength, prestige and knowledge to an Institution already known far and wide as the premier tailoring firm of the Southwest. This change means a reorganization of the concern's affairs and for this reason we announce

A Personal Statement by D. Eisner

In assuming full control and personal management of this old-established business 1 des're to emphaof this old-established business I des're to emphasize the fact that my reputation as the city's quality tailor will be maintained in every particular. I bring to the organization almost twenty years of experience in catering to the tailoring needs of Southern California men, and I cordially invite my many friends to pay me a visit, when each one will get my personal attention. I urge you to anticipate your Easter needs during this great sale and to order early, so that you may not be disappointed in selection or delivery. In bidding you welcome I want to say that never in all my tailoring experience have I seen such values as this sale affords.

However, you almost at once got accustomed to that also. These headaches of Miss Keggs were a sympton of the very bad health from which she suffered, and on the occasions of Rosalie's visits to her room Miss Keggs was very communicative about her ill health. It was the reason, she told Rosalie, why, alone of all the mistresses, she had a room to herself instead of sharing one. The Sultana had granted her that privilege, provided she would use his remote and rather poky attic, because it was so essential she should be quiet and undisturbed.

"Don't you have any medicine, Miss Keggs," said the small Rosalie, in one part genuinely sympathetic and in the other eager to discuss anything that would prolong her stay by the warm of stove.

"Nothing does me any good," said Miss Keggs, said the small Rosalie, in one part genuinely sympathetic and in the other eager to discuss anything that would prolong her stay by the warm of stove.

"Nothing does me any good," said Miss Keggs wearily. After a minute she added, "But I really am feeling very bad tonight. Mr. Ponders very kindly gives me soone medicine that relieves my bad attacks. I wonder, Rosalie, if you could find your way down to Mr. Ponders and give him this medicine bottle and ask him if he could very kindly oblige me with a little of my medicine?"

"Oh, I'm sure I could, Miss Keggs," cried Rosalie, delighted at the opportunity of doing a service. (Continued in Tomorrow's Times) [Georgist to A. S. M. Butchinsen]

where a deficit of $10,981,346.77
existed after paying dividends of per cent on the common stock.
The annual report released yesterday by Chairman of the Board
Eibert H. Gary Shows a balance for 1922 after deduction of all charges of $33,733,417.71, before dividends on the preferred stock.
This amount represents an increase of $3,102,620.03 over the previous twelve months. The deficit of $10,981,286,77 after common dividends reflects an improvement of $2,036,438.04, as compared with the deficit of 1921.

of 1921. Earnings of the United States Earnings of the United States Steel Corporation are susually taken as a barometer of general business, and the 1922 report is indicative of the slaw but tangible improvement registered throughout the country. Earnings for the four quarters of the year portray this condition faithfully, the first quarter resulting in a decrease of $12,032,374.85 from 1921; the second quarter an increase of $5,000,000 in round numbers; the third quarter an increase of $5,000,000 and the last quarter as increase of $7,000,000, reflecting the notice-

New York banker, in letter concerning the Los Angeles Gas & Electric Corporation states: "The securities of this old com-

securities of this old company have long been favorites with public utility buyers. Its electric business goes back forty years and it has been supplying gas for more than tonishing as it is, has been hardly more than the response to the growth and development of the section of California which the company serves."

The new issue of general and refunding mort-gage 5½% bonds, Series F, along with the bonds previously issued under this mortgage, are secured by a lien on the entire properties of the company (valued at more than $52,400,000) subject only to $6,392,500 underlying bonds.

a warning, both to the financial public and to the market itself, as to certain tendencies of the sea. The constraint contended of the sea. The banks and sea gainst which it is well to be constantly on guard. The banks and the public are in a vastly more sober mood teday than that of 1919 and 1920, but there is little doubt that, if the manipulators and the thimble-risgers were left to their own devices and the situation favored, they would exactly repeat the achievement of those years.

Todey's continuance of the last week's gradual advance carried the French franc to the highest rate since January 20. At Paris the price of sterling measured in francs fell from 73.45 to 72.50. It was 65.20 when the French moved into the Rubr, and has sold at 30 in the subsequent wild exchange market speculation. The cabled news regarding the appeal of the Rubr miners to Berlin for the government to make terms must have helped the market for the government to make terms must have helped the market for the franc; which, however, continues to move deliberately.

WALL STREET NEWS

BY MONITOR

While Bethlehem failed to cover its dividend requirements in 1922. Wall street was satisfied in the main with the showing made on the report. Depreciation charges, were decidedly liberal, increasing about $500,000 over the 1921 charge. At the same time the company was in an excellent position as regards working capital, and the financial community is prepared to eliminate consideration of 1922 conditions in favor of the excellent prospects for 1923.

The largest still discovered by the authorities was taken in a raid at Clearwater, where $12.000 worth of equipment and a large quantity of the manufactured product were confiscated. This still is said to have been operated by Jake Hyman and his wife, with Mike Dimondstein. The raiders found $150 barrels of mash, $290 sacks of sugar, six cases of yeast and a quantity of coal oil, used for fuel.

Another raid at-Downey results of in the capture of a still said to have been operated by Jake Hyman and Sam Orkand. These two stills, the investigators say, were turning out gallons of moonshine per week.

The nine persons at present under arrest are all charged with conspiracy to violate the Wright Act, which constitutes a felony. Besides Mrs. Hyman, who is sometimes known as Ida Heyman, those now under arrest are Sam Orkand, Joe Lanken, Hyman Bordensky, Louis and Joseph Blecker, Morris Wascher, B. Oawald and Mike Dimondstein. The last named was found to have been on parole from Santa Barbara, and was roturned to San Quentin.

alley between Spring and Broadway on Sixth street and it is planned to remove the present four-story building standing there and erect a twelve-story addition to the hotel. The present hotel building will be remodeled and new stories added. It may not be possible to raise this structure to the height limit because of basic construction features, Mr. Fryman stated.

Most bitter in the city's history brought into the contest many personal equasions and divided the city into fractions with lines more sharply drawn than any election since the town's incorporation. The faction favoring an ordinance to permit oil wells was under the leadership of Postmaster P. M. Murphy and had the support of a large number of citizens who hoped that oil development would increase the city a population and resources. The city administration, under the leadership of the entire Board of Trustees, was against the reason that they believed that the prospecting would harm the city as a residential section and beach resort.

Out of a total registration of 100, 2012 votes were cast yester-day. Those favoring oil prospecting mustered 944 ballots, and those against the industry, 1068, giving the antis 124 majority.

ples of the two countries are becoming so inflamed that actual fighting is not libely to be long delayed.

It is easy to raise a mob, but it is not so easy to control its actions. The German peoples believe about all that their government has said about the "ruthless lavasion" of the Ruhr by the French; and the French people believe most that their government has said about the economic prosperity of the Germans.

The Germans regard the occupation of the Ruhr as a barbaric invasion which must be repelled of the fatherland will be destroyed. The French believe that the Germans are more prosperous than before the war and that they are tricking the French out of repartions. When two powerful and warlike people face each other in that frame of mind the possibility of peaceful compromise becomes daily more remote.

The Germans are strengthened in their resistance by the opposition in the British government to the French policy. During the last two weeks the English and French statesmen have been saying things about each other which, if the published reports be true, would have been very likely to be followed a few years ago by a France-British war. When the heads of opposing governments any cutting things about each other the peoples are generally certain to indorse all the sharp things and add to them.

Since the World War, however, peoples are not so eager to fly at each other's throats as they were before they learned what actual warfare means. We all ate "troblitter bread of war" during 1915. gram Esitabeth Wilson, Il years of age, told the lads and lassies a bedtime story.

Dorothy Kramer, a popular Huntington Park High School student and a membeg of the De Lara Grand Opera Company, appeared on the noon program. This program, on which Charles LeRoy Munro, bass baritone, appeared, was of outstanding quality.

Miss Kramer is preparing for grand-opera roles under the direction of Manuel Sanches De Lara, who predicts a brilliant fujure for her. Her voice is purely coloratura, of a birdlike tone and great flexibility. She is 15 years of age and possesses personal charm. Mr. De Lara has selected her for the coloratura soprano role in "La Favorita," to be presented in the Gamut Theater on Thursday and Friday evenings.

Accompanied by Elsie M. Gets, Miss Kramer sang "Nightingale" and an opera aria.

Mr. Munro was accompanied by F. Stillwell Moore in his numbers, which included "Requiem," by Sidney Homer; "I Gathered a Rose," by Derothy Lee; "The Living God," by Geoffrey O'Hara, and "I Am Thy Harp," by R. Huntington Woodman. His voice is rich and powerful, particularly suitable to songs which call for hymnal fervor.

Better Farm Lands

Where Roosevelt's Dream Is Realized And Yours May Be Too

THERE is a Valley in South-western Arizona not many miles away—easily reached by the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe or by a scenic Motor Route. This is the Salt River Valley which the great Roosevelt Dam has made famous and which is traversed by the scenic Apache Trail Highway.

Fertile Farming Lands

Roosevelt visualized this Valley—he saw the possibilities through irrigation and he rec-ommended the dam which bears his name. The dam was then built by our government, which is an evidence of the importance given to this fertile valley. Now thousands of acres of fertile farming lands irrigated by the Roosevelt Dam produce bounteous crops. Water is furnished at regular intervals in quantities to assure proper growing. Droughts are impossible here and crops grow the year around. Ten, twenty and thirty-scre farms are exceedingly profitable and are still modestly priced. Six to twelve tons of alfalfa per acre is the usual experience. Other crops are profitably grown as well as choice fruits and vege-tables. Intensive farming is the rule. Larger returns from small-er acreage offer better oppor-tunities to all.

Cities and Homes
In the heart of this beautiful and fertile Valley lies Phoenix, the Capitol of the State and a hustling city of 35,000 up-todate people. Other prosperous

Exhibits in Case Too Familiar to One of Talesmen

Remembers He Was Member of Indicting Body

'Once in Jeopardy" Clause May Release Defendant

An unprecedented point so far as the local Federal court is concerned, and one for which neither side up to the hour of adjournment last night had offered a solution, arose yesterday, in U. S. Dist-Judge Bledsoe's court in the trial of William F. McShane, president of the Sutherland Fruit Company

The defendant is charged with uttering and forging false bills of lading, involving asserted shipments of oranges over the lines of the Atchison. Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, during the summer of 1919, from San Diego and Fullerton, to various parts of the United States.

The jury had been selected after a session taking almost the entire day. The first witness for the government, Thomas G. Kennedy, at the time of the asserted transactions, was vice-president and general manager of the Sutherland Fruit Company. The taking of testimony had begun, and the exhibits of the government were passed up to the jury to examine.

EXHIBITS FAMILIAR

One of the jurors, C. T. Manwaring, an insurance man of 1410
Fourth avenue, recognised the exhibits. He had seen them before. He communicated that fact to Judge Bledsoe. He said that he was a member of the Federal grand jury that returned the indictment against McShane on July 2, 1920.

He was clearly ineligible to sit as a juror. An adjournment was hastily taken, and upon the reconvening of court Judge Bledsoe paid an eloquent tribute to the memory of Raiph J. Dominguez, the veteran court crier, and adjourned until this afternoon at 1;30 o'clock. In the meantime the attorneys with the court went into executive existing to the troubles. EXHIBITS FAMILIAR executive session to iron out the troubles.

There is no known precedent in the situation, unless that afforded by the illness of A. J. Stevens of Whittier, in what is known as the Needles railway sirike case, can be so considere! In that instance Stevens became ill and had to be permanently excused. His place was taken by another juror, to whom all of the evidence taken before the disability of the juror had to be read. This concluded, the trial proceeded with the new man, Jack Gentages, taking the place of Stevens.

NO PRECEDENT But that case differentiates from the situation in the McShane trial from the fact that the change from Stevens to Gentges was stipulated by the counsel representing the trikers, headed by Jud Rush. In other words, they agreed to it and were thus estopped from taking advantage of the situation. But the old-fashioned doctrine in law, "once in jeopardy," might apply, and attorneys representing Mo-Shane might not stipulate. In the absence of such an agreement the situation is decidedly mixed and lawyers on both sides are nonplused. If the court holds that, in the absence of a stipulation by both sides, the doctrine of "once in jeopardy" applies, there is nothing to do but dismiss the charge against McShane. The jury was regularly impaneled and all legal requirements compiled with. The indictment against McShane had been returned so long ago—almost three years—that Juror Manwaring had forgotten all about it until his memory was refreshed by the exhibits.

It was between sets at the Pick-ford-Fairbanks Studios yesterday. It is all new and strange to little Phillippe De Lacey. Fate made Phillippe De Lacey. Fate made Phillippe De Lacey a child of war. He was ushered into the world during one German air raid and his mother was taken out during another.

It happened in a little village near Soissons early in July of 1917.

Russian Act at Orpheum

The well-known mountain, formerly reported as coming to Mahommet, is doing stunts again. The mountain in this case is the Russian theatrical craze, following the metropolitan success of Chauve-Couris and the Moscow Art Theater, which has now seeped into vaudeville in the form of a novel act known as "Tarmark," and which is coming to delight most theater-goers who have not been able to see the other Russian productions.

"Yarmark" will arrive at the Orpheum next week, and while we have no detailed information regarding the act, other than that it is Russian we are assured that brilliant dances and vocal offerings will largely compose the act. an His Own Police

Whitman His Own Policeman
Gayne Whitman, playing the policeman in "We Giris" at the Morosco, really dig police duty, the other night, and as it happened, regarding his own car.

Be it known that Whitman, wrapped up in thoughts of his art, is very absent minded sometimes. Once or twice lately he has forgotten all about his car, following the evening performance, has left it parked on the street, and has gone home on the street car, to be confronted by his wife at home with queries of how come? The other night he came across two men apparently trying to unlock'a car, but having difficulty.

"Can I help you?" he asked politely.

"No, thanks," said one nervously.

Then Gayne Whitman came to a realization all of a sudden that it was his own car the men were monkeying with.

"Well, I insist!" exclaimed Whitan, "especially as this is my car."
The men took to their heels.

be made. Edmonton, which will be the first stop.

The company numbers about fifty people, including Barker, his assistants, cast, cameramen, electricians and construction crew.

Through the co-operation of the government officials, Mr. Barker is going to stage a buffalo stampede in the Canadian National Park. Seventy-six hundred bison settlers of the place are booked up to participate with Earle Williamson, Renee Adores and Pat O'Malley setting the pace in the foreground. If the players get out of that tight position alive, the director intends to send them through the white water, or rapids, of the Athabasca River in a batteau and later to have them caught in an ice jam on the Athabasca while attempting to cross the frozen river with a dog team.

concerning the music which is on his program. He is conscious of its inspiration and its beauty and he concentrates absolutely and without the alightest token of at fectation on the tonal material that is grasped by his memory and played with spirit by his fingers. That he does not fully rise to the exigencies of a certain particular passage or to even a whole-movement say, of a sonata does not diminish the widening of the understanding he has of the composition. Sometimes the actual melodies and harmonies come to you through a veil of uncertainties in tone, but you nearly feel sure that though he may have limitations of fingers, and hands the mind of the man has realized its purpose at least in the background. What Cortot lacks, and he evidenced this particularly, I feit in the sonata in B flat minor by Chopin, was emphasis. In the opening section, in the scherm and even in the swift finals the meaning at times was clouded. The funeral march was given with a most accurate inflection, and here clearly was to be found the full shining highlight of new beauty. The entire work was interestingly if not dynamically done. We are a little too near to Rachmaninoff's great interpretation to say more. Nothing weighty elsewhere alorned the program, but this does not mean that it was not very attractive. The pastel tints that appeal to the more genial fancy were amply disclosed. There was the "Children's Corner" group by Debussy, the "Invitation to the Dance" by Weber, the softly beautiful "Litany" arranged from Schubert by Cortot himself, and Saint-Saens and Albenis numbera as well as figally the List second rhapsody. There were allo fand others. These were all frash, sometimes glittering, and searily always picturesque. The amotion, alconent of the program certainly wands it very pleasing and worthwhile.

CORTOT IN RECITAL

By Edwin Schallert The tempests and hurricanes of usic temporarily subsided and the refinements and light prewere brought to the fore at the concert by Aifred Corto, the Gallic herald of the piano, last night at Philharmonie Auditorium. He played a program of qualky, and interesting variety, conveying to his hearers the sincerity of his musicianship and his faithfulness to high ideals. He was recompensed with an applause that betokened an intelligent and, to a degree, warm appreciation.

One feels regarding Cortot that he has an authentic background. In so far as he may, he speaks with a certain reserved command concerning the music which is on his program. He is conscious of its inspiration and its beauty and he concentrates absolutely and oncert by Alfred Corto,

Investigating Committee Files Report of Findings

The report of an investigating committee consisting of Charles H. Trent, president of the Board of Public Works; H. J. ReGuirs, commissioner of the Board of Public Works; R. M. Allen, representing the health and sanitation committee, and W. T. Knowlton, sanitary sewer engineer, to the City Council in regard to the ocean pipe to be laid from the sewerage treating plant at Hyperion, became known yesterday, when their recing plant at Hyperion, became known yesterday, when their recommendations were made public. Ten days ago the committee made a trip to Oakland, Alameda, San Francisco and Mare Island to investigate the respective merita of reinforced-concrete pipes and cast-iron pipea both as to wear and efficiency when under sea water. In their report and recommendation to the City Coursell they declare that precast reinforced-concrets pipe at Hyperion will save the city about $25,000, as well as being as durable as cast fron, and therefore requests that the Council rescind the resolution which authorized the Board of Public Works to advertise for bids for cast-iron pipe.

For the last few years the treating plant at Hyperion has caused much trouble and dissatisfaction because the refuse was emptied on the beach. To do away with this last August the voters authorized a bond issue of $12,000,000 for sewer improvement, of which $1,0^0,000 was to be used in building a pipe from the treating plant at Hyperion, which should list Hyperion, which should list the property of the sea, and dump the refuse a mile from land.

CRCULARS EFFECTIVE

VISALIA, March 26. — Indication of the wide field covered by Tulare county circulars is found among inquiries which come to the main office in Visalia. Secretary A. E. Miot of the Tulare County Board of Trade reports recent receipt of a communication from the owner of a chain of stores in London. England, who writes that he contemplates buying Tulare county land. Another Englishman writes from the interior of China, the letter coming three-fourths of the way around the world, in the opposite direction, from England.

The London man asked information as to size and value of agricultural schools "In Tulare county" to which he might send his son "so that he might learn successful farming methods before going onto the land" He was advised by Mr. Miot that while the county had nothing beyond the high school, the State Farm School at Davis was rated as one of the best in the country.
